At 1:18 am Clay fire units were dispatched to the 52,000 block of Westgate for a possible house fire. Crews quickly arrived on scene to find a smoldering attic fire in the rear of the house. The occupants of the house were awakened to the smell of smoke in the structure, and all three evacuated safely. Crews were able to control the fire quickly, and the fire was contained to the area of origin. There were no injuries, and the cause of the fire is believed to be accidental.
